A BICYCLE ORDINANCE

Councilmen Did Not Kill It Last Night.

DOGS, STREETS AND SEWERS

And Other Articles Too Numerous to Mention Discussed at Last Night's Session of the Solons—No Money For Mrs. Farmer, Isaac Walters or Mrs. Curren. A Busy Body.

"Anybody who hasn't had his street attended to please give immediate notice" said Clerk Hanley, after council had adjourned last night, and it was a very appropriate expression.

Mr. George was absent and President Marshall was late at the regular session of the solons last night so Mr. Owen took the chair. The bicycle ordinance, as given briefly in the NEWS REVIEW last night, was taken up first. Stewart moved that it pass under suspension of the rules. Peake objected. He didn't like the section which allowed wheelmen to ride on the sidewalk when the street was "muddy, blocked or otherwise impassable." He assured council that he didn't down the sidewalks but he wanted no wheels where they might disturb his equilibrium. Mr. Marshall championed the ordinance in a manner most praiseworthy. He said as regarded people crossing the street they should not run across at any and every point. The ordinance, he thought, was the best one that could be made.

Mr. Stewart—I was out of the city when the committee met but had only one objection to the original ordinance. It provided for riding on unpaved streets. Revised as it is the ordinance is even more stringent on the riders. If any are inclined to take undue advantage of it we can easily change it.

Mr. Kent—I can't vote for that ordinance as long as it allows riders to go on the sidewalks. What if there are rough places in the streets. Don't they ride over country roads? The sidewalks are for citizens and it will be dangerous for them. Mr. Marshall says he would rather have that than none. Does he mean that we can have no other. Why not a new one? I don't see why the committee was stuck on that ordinance.

Mr. Marshall—I am sorry that I raised Mr. Kent. He evidently misunderstood me. With the wheelmen presenting their views in an ordinance with the same degree of obstruction, it would not pass because it would be too dangerous for the citizens. This ordinance gives them more than any other could. If no ordinance is passed riders can go on the pavement when and where they please and accidents to children and grown people will continue.

Mr. Kent—Then we can't have any other at all, can't we?

Mr. Marshall—Yes, but it will never pass. This ordinance says wheelmen can go on sidewalks where the street is impassable. That doesn't mean they can do so just because a mud puddle extends half way across the street. Even when they ride on the sidewalk they will have to get off their wheel if people do not get out of the way.

Mr. Horwell wanted to know if the city would be liable for damages if the ordinance was passed and a sidewalk accident should occur. Stewart said the city was liable as long as there was no ordinance and Solicitor Clark said a bicycle was a vehicle. If there was an ordinance, only the rider could be sued. Mr. Owen saw how the wind was blowing and gave it as his opinion that the ordinance would not pass. He thought the street crossing speed should be reduced from eight to four miles an hour. Mr. Marshall said he could easily walk six miles an hour, and it wasn't right to compel wheelmen to go so slow as that. Mr. Owen thought the doctor was a good walker: an average man, he said, could walk four miles an hour, and he thought cyclists should not ride faster than a man could walk.

Mr. Marshall was disgusted. "Well," he retorted, "why don't you introduce an ordinance doing away with bicycle riding altogether?"

Then there arose a grave doubt if anybody could calculate speed. Mr. Owen remarked that "not a man on the police force could tell how fast a wheelman was going. A speed of eight miles an hour was sufficient to kill a child if struck by a wheel," he thought. Peake was the only member to vote against suspension of the rules, but was joined by Mr. Kent when it came to voting on the final passage. That left five votes to two against. Every member of council, including Mr. Peake, seemed to think that the ordinance had passed, and Mr. Peake was giving additional testimony about riders who knocked down vast armies of little children in the West End, and never even stopped to soothe their aches and pains with the candles and sweetmeats for sale at Peake's emporium; also about ladies whose dresses were ruined by the pneumatic tires rubbing against them. Suddenly an idea struck him. It was a rare idea. "Why," he exclaimed, triumphantly, "it takes six votes to pass an ordinance under suspension of rules. Ain't I right, Mr. Clark?" Mr. Clark said he guessed so, and the five city fathers heaved sighs at the thought of the big damages the city will have to pay if anybody gets hurt in a sidewalk collision.

Then the hydrophobia ordinance, amending one of the revised dog ordinances passed April 10, was read for the second time.

THE ORDINANCE PASSED.

President Marshall Says the Required Vote Was There.

"Council passed the bicycle ordinance last night, notwithstanding the decision of Solicitor Clark," said President Marshall today. "It had the required number of votes to suspend the rules every time, and when placed on final passage had five yeas, and that is enough to pass any ordinance except one relating to the expenditure of money. It requires a two-thirds vote to suspend the rules, and we had that right along. When money is not appropriated it only requires a majority of the members elected, and as the bicycle ordinance had that majority it has been so recorded on the minutes. I look upon the ordinance as a good one, dealing out justice to pedestrians and wheelmen alike, and that is what we want. Justice is as necessary in the formation of law as it is in its enforcement."

SEWERS AND STREETS.

And Some That Are Just Plain Roads to Be Improved.

An ordinance regarding the platting and sub-division of land in the city, requiring one week's notice to council and requiring all new streets opened to be a continuation of some other street as near as possible, was read for the second time.

The second reading of a resolution for the grading of Waterloo road caused a stir. Engineer George wanted council to look at the road. He divined that Peake would kick and he said he was tired of trying to satisfy people on the road. Peake's kick came on time. He said it wasn't right to fix the grade where the engineer had put it, because of the expense he had been at in laying water pipes. He referred to the time he was in council before, and said that his successor, Mr. Brindley, had an ordinance passed to suit himself. He also wanted council to look at Trentvale street, as there are several dangerous places there and teams are liable to go over the hill. He thought the commissioner should be allowed more men to do the work. Council decided to see the place at 6 o'clock Friday evening. For the first time in a long while there were no petitions, so council talked about sewers, to change the subject.

The committee on Huston road recommended a sewer laid before paving the road. Mr. Kent thought it would be impossible to pave without sewerage, and that Tanyard run would eventually be the sewer for the second sewer district of the city. He moved the sewer be built on that side of the road from Avondale street to the Norris property. Peake said George Morton had offered a piece of ground if they sewered, and council should wait and see what could be done about it. Mr. Owen favored delay. Mr. Challis thought all the property owners could not be assessed. The cost of 300 to 400 feet of sewer was estimated at $6 per foot. The solicitor said he had been required by the sewer commissioners to give an opinion on assessing farm land and the question was one of value. Marshall and Challis suggested a committee looking at it and Horwell, Peake and Stewart were appointed.

A resolution to grade West Market street and Peake street from Grant street to the north end of Peake street was passed.

A resolution to lay side walks on East Market street and Calcutta road to Wall street passed, as did an ordinance to lay side walks on Avondale street.

A resolution to grade Ridgeway avenue and Lands End street from Fenton to Eighth, passed after Engineer George had explained that it was badly needed and showed a plat of it.

Then an important sidewalk ordinance was read. It requires the commissioner when he finds defective walks, when the repairs do not exceed $5, to notify the property owners, and if repairs are not made in three days to do the work and charge it up by law. Kent caused a smile when he

IT WAS A HOT GAME

The Shamrocks Down the Y. M. C. A. Boys.

WATCH FOR THE NEXT CONTEST

There Was a Big Crowd Present Yesterday and the Enthusiasm Was Great. Several of the Regular Team of the Y. M. C. A. Were Unable to Play—Full Report of the Game.

There was fun galore at the West End grounds last evening, when the Shamrocks and the Y. M. C. A. base ball clubs contested for supremacy. The latter club was in a somewhat crippled condition on account of Catcher Albright and John Cartwright being injured recently and unable to take part in the game, while Kennedy was compelled to retire, on account of a crippled finger. The Shamrocks put up a good game, Lynch and Finch forming a splendid battery. There was a good attendance and enthusiasm ran high, all good plays receiving generous applause. The next game will doubtless attract an immense crowd. Following is the game by innings:

McNutt retired on pop fly to third. Twaddle out, short to first. P. McShane out in same manner. Minus.

McNicol first out on balls. Reark same. Fry struck out. McCarron sent McNicol and Reark home, himself reaching second. Godwin made safe hit to center, sending McCarron to third. Lynch hit past second, McCarron coming home. Davis struck out. Finch out on fly to J. McShane. Four runs.

Percy Albright made dandy nice base hit to center, but died while trying to purloin second. Kennedy to base on balls. J. McShane fanned wind, and Kennedy expired at second, a very neat double play. Goose eggs.

McNicol base on balls. Reark nice base hit, sending McNicol to second. A wee little fly was allowed to drop safe between Percy Albright and Twaddle, giving Fry a life at first; but McNicol was killed at third. Reark stole third and Fry second. McCarron out, Kennedy to McShane, Reark crossing the home plate. Godwin laid down on strikes. One run.

Tolbert succumbed easily. J. Cartwright bunted himself to death. Davidson fanned the atmosphere. Blanks.

Lynch out for interfering with J. McShane at first. Heckathorne out on foul fly to Twaddle. Davis to base on balls. Finch out on fly to Twaddle. Nary run.

McNutt hit by pitcher and safe at first, and immediately stole second. Twaddle made nice base hit to center and McNicol crossed the plate. P. McShane sent to first on balls, Twaddle to second. Percy Albright out on fly to left. Kennedy forced Twaddle out at third. On a wild throw, P. McShane made the circuit. J. McShane struck out. Two runs.

McNicol out on strikes. Reark out on fly to short. Fry given a life by Tolbert's muff of a wee foul fly, but was killed a moment later from short to first. Blanks.

Tolbert reached first by bad throw of short, and captured second by muff of throw. Joe Cartwright retired, short to first, Tolbert reaching third. Davidson out on strikes. Tolbert expired at the home plate while trying to score on a short passed ball. Goose eggs.

McCarron out, short to first. Godwin was so foolish as to send a fly to Twaddle. Lynch to base on balls, and retired at third, while trying to make that base on a short hit by Heckathorne. Blanks.

McNutt was a victim, short to first. Twaddle to first on nice hit to center. P. McShane hit to short, who cut off Twaddle at second, and that baseman sent the sphere whistling to first, curtailing McShane's ambition. A dandy nice double play. No runs.

Davis was so verdant as to send a fly to Twaddle. Finch made first safely. McNicol was given a pleasing treat by Joe Cartwright mugging a fly in right, while Finch came home on a passed ball. Reark to base on balls and stole second. Fry sent a hot one to short and McNicol was retired at the home plate by a lightning throw. McCarron reached first by a wild throw of Twaddle's, Reark and Fry scoring. Godwin out on fly to McNutt. Three great big runs.

Percy Albright reached first, struck by pitcher. Kennedy base on balls. J. McShane made nice hit to right, and Percy Albright stole home in a cool, cold-blooded fashion. Tolbert out on fly to catcher. Joe Cartwright again expired in an attempt to bunt. Davidson hit a liner square into short's hands. One much needed run.

Lynch to first on a beauty to center. Heckathorne hit a twenty one to Davidson, who made a bad throw to second and Lynch reached third in safety. Davis out to catcher. Finch sent to first on balls—bases full. McNicol sent a nice one to left center, and three jubilant runners came racing in, while enthusiastic friends of the Shamrocks applauded to the echo. Reark hit to Twaddle, who made a daisy pickup and a beautiful throw home, to head off McNicol; but Tolbert muffed the throw and the runner was safe. Reark stole second and Fry sent him all the way around by a nice hit to left. Fry going to second on passed ball. McCarron sent Fry to third on a base hit. Godwin out on strikes. Lynch retired, second to first. Five big runs.

McNutt hit a corker for two bases to left. Twaddle hit an infielder, which Reark caught, after considerable juggling. McNutt stole third in a most audacious manner. P. McShane drove out a nice two-bagger and McNutt of course came home. P. McShane, not to be outdone by McNutt, coolly stole third, and came home a moment later on Percy Albright's neat two-bagger. Percy, a moment later, believing that it was and is right to follow a good example, purloined third in safety. How's that for a single inning? Three two-baggers and three thefts of third base. John Laughlin batted in Kennedy's place, and was out, second to first, Percy coming home. J. McShane struck out. Three much needed runs.

Heckathorne nice base hit, but was splendidly thrown out while trying to steal second. Davis to first on safe hit over second, but was forced at second by Finch, who went to second on passed ball. McNicol out on fly to McNutt. Goose eggs.

Tolbert out on fly to center. Joe Cartwright tried to bunt and of course was out. Davidson ended the agony on a limited fly to pitcher, the score standing 13 to six in favor of the Shamrocks, the members of the club being as happy as a clam at high tide. Following is the table:

A HARD RIDE.

Warner Broke His Wheel and Had to Walk.

Curt Warner, one of the young men who paced Will Bott to Youngstown in the Cleveland-Pittsburg road race last Saturday, arrived home late yesterday afternoon after a series of exciting adventures. His friends here thought him lost, but he was only spending a day or two with acquaintances, and did not start until yesterday. He got along very well until he reached Achor, when the front forks of the wheel broke, letting him down. He had a hard fall, and walked the remainder of the distance, carrying his wheel. His clothes were torn and he looked anything but the trim wheelman who departed a few days ago.

CHANGES AT ARMOUR'S.

Mr. Wood Retires and Mr. Davis Gets a Promotion.

J. M. Wood, the gentlemanly manager of the local branch of the Armour company, has resigned, and will on Saturday go to Columbus where he will take up a position as salesman with another concern. J. W. Davis, who has long been the company's cashier here, has been promoted to the position of manager, and a new man will be sent from Chicago to look after the books.

A Big Reward.

Chief Gill's eyes opened wide with astonishment yesterday and the palm of his good right hand fairly itched when he received a notice from New York offering $3,000 for the capture of three postoffice thieves who recently escaped from the Ludlow street jail.

CITY WILL TRY AGAIN

John McFadden Won In Common Pleas Court.

ANOTHER SALOON CASE GONE

Judge Billingsley Decided Mayor Gilbert Was In Error When He Refused to Dismiss It After It Was Continued Four Days.

Special to NEWS REVIEW.

Lisbon, July 24.—East Liverpool lost another case in court today, the long talked of McFadden matter being the lucky one.

John McFadden was tried and fined $50 and costs last October for keeping his saloon open on Sunday. He asked for a new trial on an error in the proceedings, the mayor having refused to dismiss the case after continuing it for four days when there is an ordinance which says it must not be continued over three days. Judge Billingsley called this "abuse of discretion" on the part of the mayor, and ordered the judgment reversed, the fine set aside, and the case sent back for another trial.

The city lost another case, or its part of the case of James D. West against East Liverpool and the street railway. The plaintiff got a joint judgment, and motions for a new trial were argued today. Judge Billingsley decided the city liable for damages because a fence should have been erected at that point, and the stump in question removed. The only question of damages on the part of the company is whether they were guilty of negligence in running the car by the point where the horses were unmanageable. The company gets a new trial.

THE OTHER SIDE.

Harry Hughes' Story of His Liquor Case.

Charles A. Hutchinson, president of the Liquor league, called at this office, accompanied by Harry Hughes, today, and made the statement that the league could not take action on his case, and the NEWS REVIEW was in error yesterday when it made the statement that he was not a member. As regards the bond and fine, Hughes said he had never been called upon by the authorities to look after that part of the matter. His case is in the hands of his attorney, he said, who would see that all the requirements of the law were passed through. The Liquor league has never been asked to look after the case or back Mr. Hughes.

AT CHAUTAUQUA.

East Liverpool People on an Excursion Today.

A party of 14 East Liverpool people went to Rochester this morning and joined the excursionists in their trip to Chautauqua. They were George Schmidt, George H. Deidrick, J. J. Waggoner, John G. Smith, East End: Will Stewart, French Kerr, Will Swaney, Robert Burner, Jim McGarry, Willie King, Herbert Johnson, W. R. McCord and F. T. Seairight. The excursion is given by the Beaver Valley Merchants' association, and the run of 240 miles made in 34 hours, returning about midnight. Several of the East Liverpool people will go on through to see the races at Steubenville tomorrow morning.

SENATOR QUAY INTERESTED.

He Now Has Charge of the Lenz Matter.

J. J. Purinton went to Pittsburg, where he will confer with Senator Quay regarding the death of Frank Lenz, and the demand of indemnity for his mother, the plucky Pennsylvania statesman having manifested great interest in the matter.

Secretary Morris today received a letter from President Willison, of the League of American Wheelmen, stating that he was a personal friend of Frank Lenz, and the league will do all in its power to settle the troublesome question of Lenz's death. Mr. Willison believes the wheelman is still alive.

JOY AT CITY HALL.

Mayor Gilbert Returned Home Last Evening.

There is joy at city hall today, for Mayor Gilbert has returned to his place at the big desk. He came in last evening, and sauntered about as though he had not been absent several days without permission of the office force. He denies that his increased weight, caused by the salt air of Atlantic City, had anything to do with the tumbling of the Casino, and stoutly asserts the thing would not have fallen had he been there to balance the other side. The mayor had a good rest, and is better than ever prepared to mete out justice to evil doers.

CAMPOS IS MISSING.

Nothing Heard of the Spanish General Since July 17.

GOMEZ HAS OUTGENERATED HIM.

The Rebel Leader Has Raised the Revolt All Over Cuba, and Has Scattered the Spanish Forces—New Expedition Formed in New York.

HAVANA, July 24.—Since the news of the death of General Santocildes, on July 17, the authorities have had no news of Captain General Martinez de Campos, despite repeated inquiries to Santiago de Cuba and other points. The government fears that there is a general uprising in the province of Matanzas, which has been in a restless condition.

The defeat of the Spanish troops when General Santocildes was killed has given an impetus to the revolution, especially in the province of Santiago de Cuba, where the iron miners have joined the rebels.

At every turn Gomez has outgeneraled Campos. Gomez has raised the revolt all over the land, forcing Campos to scatter his soldiers over a wide area. If Spain wishes to quell the rebellion she must prepare for a prolonged occupation of the island by a large force.

A New York special says it is an open secret in Cuban revolutionary circles that preparations are being made to send an expedition to Cuba at the earliest opportunity.

It is generally understood that within the past day or two a suitable vessel has been selected and purchased by a committee. The leaders of the movement in this city decline to discuss the subject. But the Cuban patriots who are not identified with the party as leaders have all heard of the purchase. The vessel is, according to reports, an iron steamer with a power of 15 knots an hour. Neither the name of the vessel, nor the port at which she is now lying, can be ascertained.

HURLED INTO THE AIR.

Three Men Killed by Dynamite Near Chicago—One Injured.

CHICAGO, July 24.—Three men have been instantly killed and a fourth badly injured by a premature explosion of dynamite on the drainage canal, near Willow Springs. The dead are: William Kelley of Marquette, Mich.; Thomas Snaker of Chicago; Joseph Smith, residence unknown.

The injured: Matthew Healy, severe scalp wound. Kelley, Snaker and Smith were preparing a blast and were pressing the dynamite into the hole, when suddenly the blast which was almost completed went off. All three men were hurled high in the air, and came down fully 200 yards from the scene of the explosion. All three were mangled in a most horrible manner.

BALLOU IS STILL KICKING.

He Asks Cleveland to Prevent the Bullfight at Atlanta.

NEW YORK, July 24.—William Hosea Ballou has written another letter to Secretary Carlisle, regarding the proposed bullfighting at the Atlanta exposition. He states that the managers of the exposition have engaged J. P. Porteus to bring to this country a troop of bullfighters, and that these men can be refused admission to this country under the contract labor laws. Mr. Ballou desires that permission for entrance be refused. He has also written a letter to President Cleveland, in which he says:

"I inclose herewith duplicates of letters to the honorable secretary of the treasury in regard to exhibitions of bullfights at the Atlanta exposition. You will note that the troop of bullfighters can only come into this country by express permission and license to each one personally by the secretary, and that it is clearly his duty to refuse such license to them, as the object of their coming is a misdemeanor in the state of Georgia. Permit me to express the hope that you will interpose your good offices to avert a national scandal, as the administration will be clearly responsible, now that its attention is directed to the law if the intended bulls and the contract bullfighters are admitted into the United States."

A DYING GIRL'S CHARGE.

She Accuses a Prominent Bradford Man With Assaulting Her.

BRADFORD, Pa., July 24.—A pretty young girl named Nora Walker, aged 15, has died at the Bradford hospital. Nora's mother demanded that an inquest be held. A jury was impaneled and the remains of the girl were reviewed and the statement of the mother taken. She testified that her daughter had revealed the cause of her trouble on her deathbed.

Nora said that while employed as a domestic in a private family in this city, the man of the house entered her chamber while she was asleep and outraged her, which resulted in peritonitis and caused her death. The affair has caused a sensation. The party accused is a wellknown citizen, and a husband and father. A post mortem will be held.

Settlers Flee From the Indians.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 24.—Governor Richards has received a message from Adjutant General Stitzer, who is in the Jackson Hole region investigating the Indian trouble, indicating that a serious state of affairs exists there. Indians from Fort Hall and other reservations are reported going into the country, and all the mountain passes are in their control.

Miss Emma James, of Third street, suffers from an accident which almost cost her the end of her finger.

Mrs. Clara Stowe, of Cadiz, returned yesterday after visiting her sister, Mrs. Fred Andrews, of Franklin street.

A bunch of small but enthusiastic boys conducted a bicycle tournament on Sixth street last night, exciting finishes being as thick as there were races.

Trades council meets tonight for the purpose of arranging for Labor Day. A rousing meeting is expected, and many plans for the work will be adopted.

The friends of Judge Johnston, of Youngstown, will be glad to learn that he is prominently mentioned as a candidate for a place on the circuit court bench.

The Utopia club and their friends picnicked at Columbian park yesterday evening. They spent a delightful evening. Dancing was the chief amusement.

Miss Mary Grace Reed, late organist of the First Congregational church, University of Oberlin, has been appointed organist of St. Stephen's church, this city.

The trolley wire was down last night, and the usual inconvenience resulted. To a man up a tree it seems the company would save money by buying a new wire.

Mrs. Ella Taylor returned yesterday to her home in Carrabelle, Florida, after a visit with her mother, Mrs. Wm. Lequear, of Broadway. Mrs. Nagle, Sixth street, accompanied her to Steubenville.

The Democratic leaders are making a desperate effort to have the city convention at city hall tonight well attended, but for some reason there is not a great deal of enthusiasm among the faithful.

When Motorman Kerr attempted to run his car into the Second street switch yesterday afternoon it caught the point, and left the track. The motorman quickly shut off the power, and the results were trifling.

When a disreputable dance was raided in Pittsburgh on Monday night two Liverpool boys, who were seeing the town, were among the captured, and they were compelled to send home for the amount required to gain their liberty.

The individual who steals flowers called at the residence of Commissioner Welsh on East Market street the other night, and got away with all the blossoms in the yard. What a pity he can not be given a few months in the works.

Howard Kerr, who was severely injured a year ago at the Thomas works and spent several weeks in a Cleveland hospital, is suffering from a broken bone in his arm, and will go to Cleveland this week for the purpose of having it removed.

If you want to buy or sell anything, let the public know it through the want column of the NEWS REVIEW. Doctor Jackman had a bicycle to sell the other evening and advertised it in the NEWS REVIEW. Within a few hours a prospective purchaser called, and the wheel was sold.

Officers Morgan and Johnson, of Wellsville, were here yesterday serving subpoenas in a case that interests local people. Morgan was ill, suffering from the effects of a kick in the back received on Saturday when he was attempting to stop a fight. The cowardly blow may result more seriously than he first anticipated.

Five young women making up the famous Singing Brigade of the Salvation Army arrived in town today, and will remain here for five days. They are from Cincinnati and Cleveland, and have done good work in the cause. Street meetings will be conducted, and they will sing at the barracks on Fourth street. Their visit is expected to swell the ranks of the army.

A month ago the NEWS REVIEW published a complete story of the machine invented by Professor Wolfe and Harvey Whitacre for the extraction of iron particles from clay, and last night a local paper, always a few feet in the rear, gave the same matter to its readers as news. Such "enterprize" on the part of the "leading daily" is almost enough to bring tears from a statue or groans from a cast iron dog.

Two boys, giving Dawson and Johnson as their names and Second street as their residence, were brought before Mayor Manley yesterday afternoon and severely reprimanded for taking a hose and some iron from the residence of N. G. Macrum. Mr. Manley also scored the junk dealer who bought the articles, declaring that the law compelled him to report such matters to the police.

A COOL RETREAT.

Has Every Desirable Facility for an Enjoyable Sojourn.

Persons desiring to combine recreation, entertainment, instruction and devotion with their summer outing will find Eagle Lake, on the Pennsylvania Lines, near Wassaw, Ind., the ideal spot. This pretty resort is the site of Winona Assembly and Summer School, the youngest of the Chautauqua assemblies. The grounds have been well and favorably known as Spring Fountain Park. They constitute about two hundred acres of romantic woodland, stretching nearly two miles along the eastern shore of Eagle lake, a beautiful sheet of water. The grounds have been plotted and pretty cottages constitute the summer homes of persons who find health and rest-giving recreation in invigorating air amid attractive surroundings. Some desirable cottage sites are yet obtainable. In addition to the portions laid out for building purposes, a fine park has been made. There is also a race track with overlooking amphitheater, furnishing splendid facilities for outdoor athletic sports. The large auditorium has a seating capacity of 3,000, and the several college halls are used for Assembly purposes. A good hotel, restaurant and supply stores furnish means of living at reasonable rates. A large fleet of row boats, with two steamers, will permit indulgence in boating, and persons fond of fishing may enjoy that pastime to satisfactory extent, as the lake teems with fish. The low tourist rates over the Pennsylvania Lines place these pleasures within easy reach. The rate will be in effect all season from ticket stations on these lines. In addition to the season tourist tickets, a low rate will also be in effect for round trip tickets, good fifteen days. Ticket agents of the Pennsylvania Lines will furnish them, and they may be obtained from agents of connecting lines. The Assembly department opens July 1 and continues four weeks, during which time prominent speakers will discuss live topics. During August there will be educational work under President John M. Coulter, of Lake Forest university, in connection with the assembly. For details regarding rates of fare, time of trains, etc. apply to nearest Pennsylvania Line ticket agent, or address F. VAN DUSEN, Chief Assistant General Passenger Agent, Pittsburgh, Pa. Applications for information concerning the resort should be addressed to Secretary E. S. Scott, Eagle Lake, Ind.

A BICYCLE ORDINANCE.

said he was opposed to Chief Gill serving notices and getting paid for it. It is plain that the chief earns his money and more in that and other lines. Mr. Welch said that four years ago Colonel Hill had decided that a commissioner's notice was not legal. Solicitor Clark said it didn't matter what was said four years ago; the state law said differently and the ordinance passed.

A resolution to grade and pave side walks on St. George, Mulberry and Chestnut streets and Pennsylvania avenue, East End, was passed.

A resolution to pave Lincoln avenue from Brazil avenue to Grant street, 30 feet wide instead of 36 feet, was passed.

Mr. Marshall, who preferred to let Mr. Owen remain president throughout the entire meeting, moved that the solicitor condemn the property in a line between Pleasant street and Lisbon road for street purposes. Peake started to tell about two or three routes, but the solicitor wearily said they would abide by the engineer's choice. Dr. G. P. Kirk has offered land there to the city. Clark advised against going to too much expense and said he had just handed the clerk a bill of $12 for recovering the plat of the Fourth street extension. The motion passed as read and the motion by Marshall that the solicitor offer to buy the desired right of way. Mr. Chellis asked for the grade of Calcutta road from Wall street to McKinnon's, so that people there could lay side walks and was referred to the engineer.

Kent moved that an ordinance be drawn up for the improvement of Pleasant street. He was in a hurry about it, but Mr. Marshall and the balance of council thought the city would be more in pocket by waiting, and Kent withdrew his motion in despair.

THREE MUST SUE

If They Want Any of the City's Cash—Legal Opinions.

As council meeting drew to a close Solicitor Clark said he had given written opinions on the claim for damages of Isaac Walters, Mrs. L. R. Farmer and Helena Curren. Mrs. Farmer's was as follows:

"Her claim is based upon an alleged over payment of sewer taxes. The papers and evidence I find does not sustain her. A settlement of certain assessments and claims made by her for damages to her property, etc., was at one time effected with her through my predecessor, A. R. Mackall, Esq. She gave her check in the hand writing of G. Y. Travis. It is evident that afterward the check was changed into a receipt in full. She afterwards, only a few months after this settlement was effected, paid her sewer assessment taxes to the county treasurer. This was when the whole matter was fresh in her mind.

No claim was made for error in this matter either to the treasurer or city officials until it came to paying the sewer assessment taxes—the remaining installments—last December. Messrs. Mackall and Travis both say that only the assessments due at the time of the settlement was included, hence this claim was not in that settlement. Those facts are confirmed by the books of the city clerk.

I doubt the authority of Mr. Mackall to settle. No such authority is conferred on the solicitor in any other way than by action of council, and I find no minute conferring such power on the city solicitor. But I would not urge this objection were I convinced this claim were a just one.

I am convinced just the other way and cannot advise payment under the circumstances. The claim is small, but the principle involved is just the same as though the claim was large. I think the claim should be rejected.

The others were not read but were against allowing one cent damages.

Mr. Marshall moved that the report of the Farmer case be received and her claim rejected. Carried.

Clerk Hanley said he had sent a bill to the Bradshaw heirs for recording a plat of their land. T. R. Bradshaw had written to the recorder at Lisbon saying that they had not ordered the plat recorded and would not pay the bill. Clerk said it had been acknowledged and Mr. Horwell moved that the Bradshaws be notified that if they did not pay before August 30 the law would be enforced regarding the sale of lots before platted and recorded. Then council adjourned.

THE TEST.

A Thorough One Given the Water System Today.

Superintendent Morley today tested the new regulator, and found it all right. The pressure of the high service is 205 pounds, and that of the low service 72 pounds. When it goes below that figure the high service begins to feed it, keeping the standard constantly at that point. Ten 2-inch connections, with 12-inch nozzles, this morning reduced the low service to 40 pounds, but the high service brought it up to 65. Eight streams show a pressure of 74 pounds, and six streams makes it 80 pounds.

"If they want 10 streams to throw over the opera house they can have it," said Superintendent Morley. "The regulator works like a charm, and we can give them all the water they want. We can control the water in the low pressure mains, and now have a system that any town can be proud of."

BORING FOR OIL.

Liverpool Parties Are Going to Hunt the Field.

A special sent out from Steubenville says: "Twelve hundred acres of ground has been leased by East Liverpool parties in Knox township, who will commence to bore for oil. All the land at Ekeville has also been leased by foreign companies, and a charter will be asked for."

The Toronto Tribune says: "The oil craze is getting nearer, and some Toronto people may yet be in the swim. A company has been organized composed largely of East Liverpool parties to test the territory about Knoxville. At least 1,200 acres of land have been leased and all preparations made to make a speedy test of the field. Movements towards beginning the work will be begun next week. The leased territory lies in close proximity to the Island Creek field and its development will be watched with interest."

TELL IT TO A POLICEMAN.

When You Have a Secret He is Your Official Confidant.

Officer Menor is of a kind and gentle disposition, and people frequently follow the injunction of the Chicago man and tell him their troubles. For a week or more he has observed a woman closely watching her husband. Every night she took position in a dark alley, and last night she told the officer the whole story. She suspected her husband of undue intimacy with a young girl, but the officer gave the angry woman all the comfort he could at the same time thinking of what a rumour there will be in that alley some night soon.

HUNTING FOR OIL.

Butler Prospectors in Town This Morning.

D. H. Deeds, a prominent oil man of Butler, Pa., was here this morning with his brother who is also interested in oil. They secured a rig at a lively, and immediately drove into the country back of the city. They gave out no information regarding their business, but it was rumored that the gentlemen were not driving the hills and vales of Columbiana county for the sole benefit of their health. As the story goes they are leasing land on Beaver creek, and will arrange for a wild cat well when they return.

NEAR TO DEATH.

Nellie Martin Had a Close Call on Washington Street.

When Miss Nellie Martin was riding down Washington street yesterday she lost control of her bicycle, and dashed down the steep grade at a terrific speed. At Second street the wheel turned into the pavement, and the young lady was thrown against the side of Demuth's store. Had she gone six inches the other way she would have collided with a roll of barbed wire, while a short distance on the other side was the cellarway. Miss Martin escaped with a few bruises.

Were Mistaken.

There was a laughable scene in the Diamond yesterday. A prominent minister and a well-known business man, who is a member of his church, walked arm in arm across Market street, and stepping boldly along walked down an alley on which is located a well patronized saloon. As they went by a little urchin who evidently did not know them burst forth: "Them fellers is goin' for a drink, I'll bet," and the little knot who noted the occurrence laughed. In reality the gentlemen were on a mission of mercy.

Only One Manager.

At a meeting of the Grand Opera House syndicate, held on Monday evening last, Mr. James A. Norris was elected manager for the ensuing year. He will have full control. The statement made in a daily and a weekly sheet of this city, that two managers would have charge, is an absolute fiction as usually occurs in said irresponsible sheets. Malice was the cause of the daily break, and ignorance that of the weekly.

A Good Suggestion.

"If council wants to do something practical and pass a law that we will feel, said a business man to a reporter, "let them enact an ordinance that will prohibit baby buggies in the Diamond on Saturday night. That would be a blessing to all mankind."

A Pleasant Dance.

The colored people danced at Rock Spring last evening and had a pleasant time. Guests from Wellsville, and other towns in this vicinity were present.

A ROW.

Dan Densmore is Now Being Hunted by the Police.

The police had a knotty case to untangle last night, several charges having been made before it was clearly decided who wanted who was arrested.

After the smoke of battle had cleared away it was found that Samuel Lent has a daughter who has been annoyed by two girls giving the names Minnie Chellis and Mary Jones. Lent called at city hall last night and informed the mayor that the girls came to his house frequently and used bad language. He also stated they had threatened to wipe up the earth and do a lot of other things with his daughter, and wanted them arrested. Chief Gill heard the complaint with quiet dignity, and Lent made information against the Chellis girl. The orders for her arrest had not been given before the girls arrived at city hall and wanted Dan Densmore arrested. They claimed he had assaulted them in an alley, and only punishment at the hands of the police would satisfy them. Officers Earl and Whan were notified by telephone to keep an eye open and bring Densmore down. He kept out of sight, however, and no arrests had been chronicled this morning.

SENT TO THE INFIRMARY.

The Awful Condition of a Deaf and Dumb Girl.

The trustees have sent Mary Baker to the infirmary, and she will probably spend the remainder of her days in that institution. The girl is 16 years of age, and has been in the asylum for the deaf and dumb, as she can neither speak nor hear. Her mother lives in a shanty boat at the foot of Union street, but is compelled to work, and can not give her afflicted daughter the required attention. In recent months the girl has lost the use of her lower limbs.

AN EXTRA MAN.

Police Committee Want a Night Patrolman.

There is a scheme on foot to reinforce the police department by the employment of another man for night work at the fire station. The plan is to have Patrolman McMillen do day duty, and the new man sleep at the station and do the wire repairing. It was to have appeared last night at council meeting, but the rush of business prevented it, and it was compelled to lay over until the next session.

AFTER MERCER.

Cincinnati Will Trade Players and Give Money.

Cincinnati wants Mercer to finish the season with the team, and has offered Washington a cash bonus and two good players for the handsome Liverpool boy. Mercer has not duplicated the record he had last year, but the impression prevails that it is his own fault, and he has been steadily playing for his release. He pitched a good game against Cleveland yesterday.

An Author-Accountant.

D. A. Kiester, author of a well-known book, "Expert and Stock Company Accounting and Auditing," and one of the leading accountants of Ohio, is in the city engaged upon a new set of books specially designed for the Ceramic City Light company. His new books embrace the latest ideas of experts in methods of detail. Mr. Kiester will remain here several days until the books are caught up to date.

A Veteran.

At the meeting of the Rebekas last night J. T. King was presented with a handsome veteran badge given out by the Sovereign Grand lodge of the state. He has for 32 years been an Odd Fellow and in all that time has never broken the chain. The badge is a beauty in gold and tricolor enamel, and was virtually presented by the members of his family. Only a few, 128, have been issued in the state.

Papering the Schools.

Work was commenced yesterday afternoon papering the West End school building the contract having been let to T. O. Timmons. The plan includes the East End and the Third street buildings, and will leave them neat and clean when school commences in September.

Opening the Gymnasium.

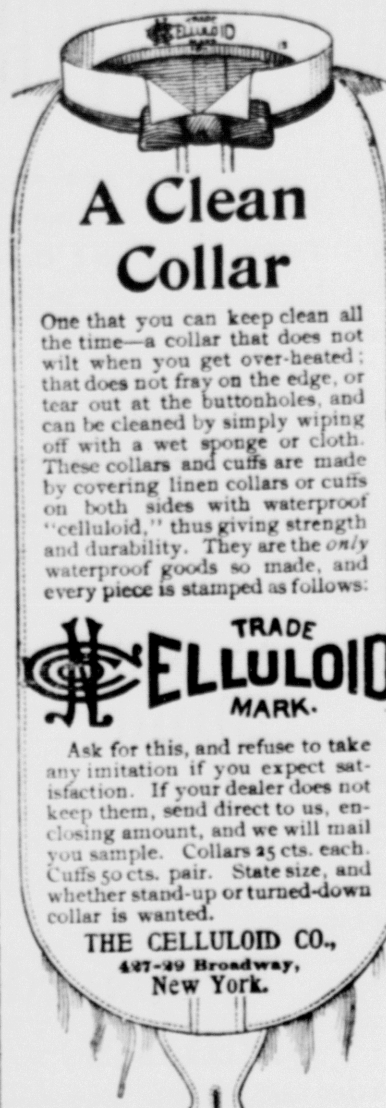

The Turners will open their gymnasium on Aug. 6 it having been closed during the annual vacation. The gymnasium was very successful last year, and an equally profitable season is now expected.

A Heavy Fine.

Joseph Prosser was fined for being drunk and disorderly $25 and costs, amounting in all to $29.00 this morning by Mayor Gilbert, and was committed to the workhouse until fine and costs are paid.

Playing in Fredericktown.

The Rollers, a new base ball team, will play at Fredericktown tomorrow with the club from that place.
